

THE FELDENKRAIS JOURNAL, NO 26 SCIENCE 2013

The Feldenkrais Journal #26 Science

Katrin Smithback \(ed.\)

Marilupe Campero: Involving Primary Caregivers in Feldenkrais Group Sessions with Children with Special Needs - the CAMIT Experience; Isabelle Ginot: What Do We Do and What Is It For? A description of the Feldenkrais Method through the notions of body image and body schema; Carl Ginsburg Splitters & Lumpers. The Major Conflict in Neuroscience Between Exploring the Whole or the Parts - A History; Elin E. Lobel: Feldenkrais Awareness Through Movement Lessons and Motor Learning; Steve Mulvihill: Differentiating a Movement and Its Imagined Twin; Roger Russell: The Primacy of Movement, Maxine Sheets-Johnstone - A Review; Katrin Smithback: Letter from the Editor; Marek Wyszynski: Unity of Mind and Body in Scientific Research and The Feldenkrais Method: The Example of Gait

Year:

2013

Publisher:

Feldenkrais Guild of North America